TERMS OF ADMISSION.

The requisites for admission to the Freshman Class, are, testimonials of good moral character, a thorough acquaintance with English, Latin, and Greek Grammar; Cæsar's Commentaries or Sallust, Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Latin Prosody, the making of Latin; the Gospels of the Greek Testament, Jacob's Greek Reader; Ancient and Modern Geography, Vulgar and Decimal Fractions, Proportion, the doctrine of Roots and Powers, and Algebra, so far as to enable the student to solve equations of the second degree; or such acquisitions as the Faculty shall judge equivalent. It is recommended to students in preparation to read attentively some convenient manual of Greek and Roman History.

The stated time of examination is on the Tuesday before Commencement. Those who are prevented from attending at that time, may be examined on the second day of the next term.

Candidates for advanced standing are examined in the preparatory studies, and in the various branches to which the Class that they propose to enter have attended. Those who are admitted from other colleges, must present certificates of regular dismission. In all cases, testimonials of good moral character are required.

By a recent regulation of the Trustees, individuals of suitable age and acquisitions are allowed, without becoming candidates for a degree, to pursue a partial course of study, for such period, not less than one year, as they may desire. They will be required to recite with the regular College Classes, at least twice a day; will have free access to the Lectures and Library, and on leaving the Institution, will be entitled to full testimonials of their respective attainments.

The College is furnished with such a variety of the classical authors in convenient editions, that the selection of the particular works to be read, is varied with successive classes at the direction of the Faculty.

All the students are required to read from the Greek Testament into English, without note or comment, in connection with morning prayers in the Chapel. Portions of it also are critically examined in an exercise under the direction of the President, on Sunday evening. In this manner a considerable part of the New Testament, in its original language, passes under critical review every year.

Lectures are delivered to the several classes, on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Botany, Natural Philosophy, Rhetoric, Moral Philosophy, Political Economy, and other subjects.

There are weekly exercises in Declamation and Composition.

It is required by the laws of the College, that the foregoing studies be pursued, and the regular examinations in them sustained by every candidate for the first degree. The object of the system of instruction in the College is not to finish the details of a professional or practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will permit. For this purpose an attempt is made to combine as great a variety as possible of valuable acquisitions with such a system of mental discipline, as shall improve and develop all the more important faculties in just proportion.

COMMENCEMENT, &c.

Commencement is on the first Wednesday in August.

The Senior Exhibition is at the middle of the first term.

There may be a Junior Exhibition, at the end of the second term.

EXAMINATIONS.

There is a public examination of all the classes at the close of each term.

The final examination of the Senior Class, occurs five weeks before Commencement.

The examination immediately preceding Commencement, is attended by a Committee appointed by the Board of Trustees.

VACATIONS.

The first vacation is of five weeks from Commencement; the second of eight weeks from the second Wednesday in December. There is also a short recess at the close of the second term.

EXPENSES.

College bills, including tuition, room rent, use of library and Commencement Dinner. . . . . $32,00

General repairs and other incidental charges, about . . . $5,00

The price of board in Commons, (which is required to be paid in advance) varies with the price of provisions, from one dollar to eight shillings per week.

Most of the Greek and Latin classics, and other text books are loaned to the students at a reasonable charge.

Other expenses must vary with the economy of each student. The price of wood is $2,50 per cord

MANUAL LABOR.

Besides the facilities enjoyed by those students who prefer to labor on the College farm, or in gardening, there are four extensive work shops on the College premises. In these, any student may have regular employment, three hours per day, under the direction of a competent Superintendant. This daily amount of vigorous exercise conduces to improve the health, preserve the morals and consequently promote the intellectual advancement of the student. The pecuniary advantage also is considerable. Those accustomed to the use of tools of course earn more than others; but, by applying the principle of division of labor, a fair sum is realized by the most unskilful. More than one half of the students in College have labored in the shops the past year, and have earned from 50 cents to $2,50, each per week, according to their individual strength, skill and industrious habits. The trades of the House-Carpenter, Cabinet-Maker, Chair-Maker, Wheelwright and Painter, have been successfully prosecuted,—and a Printing Office and Book-Bindery are soon to be in operation.

To the students of the Academy in the Village — which is under the direction of a Committee annually appointed by the Board of Trustees — the facilities of the shops are extended when practicable. The price of tuition in the Academy is from $3,50 to $5 per quarter. The course of instruction has special reference to those, who design to enter College.
